Congratulations! You are the victim of the current political scene. The buttons are smaller, perhaps not even visible this year. The dash plaques are cheaper (wait till you see the price), and in an energy conserving move the committee odious has recycled an idea that has been considered the best among the recent ODHDC HHHHH rallies.

The rules are simple. You will leave the starting area whenever who is in command wishes. However route instructions will be available at 12:30 PM. There is usually a line for the route instructions, sometimes forming three or four days beforehand. Anyone not turning in score sheet and proofs at the Seven Oaks Restaurant, 7501 W. Roosevelt Rd., Forest Park, by 4:30 PM, is ineligable for regular trophies.

The rally is simple and might even be fun. The person with the highest score wins. Points can be obtained by three methods.

Mileage. One point will be added to the score sheet for each mile under 40 miles that the rally car has travelled between the Adler Planetarium and the Seven Oaks. One point will be added to the score sheet for each mile over 40 miles between these places. So you should try to put lots of miles on, or very few.

Checkpoints. All checkpoints will be worth 25 points to whoever checks into them. No penalty for missing a checkpoint other that not getting that BIG 25 points. Checkpoints will close at 3:30 sharp!

Items. The route instructions will contain a list of items that you are to try to obtain. Some items are worth 5 points, some 10 points, and some 15 points. One item is worth 25 points.

Scoring. Your score sheet must be filled out and presented with proofs to the scoring table at the Seven Oaks BEFORE 4:30. It is mandatory that your proofs be collected in a box or bag and identified so that we can check your score sheet. All such proofs are to be removed from the SEVEN OAKS after trophy presentation. The decision of the Committee Odious will be final on the acceptability of any given item.

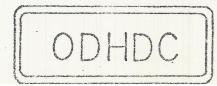

Additional awards. Anyone participating in the rally can neminate any other participant or themself for any award. Possible awards, in addition to "HERO OF THE YEAR", might be for the Show-off award, the it's-about-time award, the most childish approach to rallying award, the cop-out award, etc. etc.

Score sheets are self scoring. Cheating on the score sheets will result in loss of points to the contestant, if such cheating is done in a normal mundane fashion. However ingenious cheating, or bending of the rules will be dealt with at the mercy of the Committee Odious, which may award positive or negative points as it sees fit.

All checkpoints will be located between Roosevelt Rd. on the South, Halsted on the West, Grand Ave. on the north, and the Michigan-Indiana-Illinois border on the east. (that's in the lake)

Be sure to read the official addendum posted at the start.
